

For pennies per message and a 90% read rate,
text is the preferred method of communication.

mobile schedule event conferences, seminars, meetings, trade shows, etc..

Wouldn't it be great to be at a conference and have your cell phone send you a text message of the location and time of each breakfast, session, lunch and event before it happens?

The Benefits

Your attendees would avoid having to constantly check the agenda, the attendance level for each meeting would dramatically increase and would only cost you pennies per reminder minimizing the cost of printing the schedule on paper.

How it Works

At Wessan Interactive, you tell us the events, sessions, breakfasts, lunches and other happenings for your conference or event – and we will do the rest.

The attendee walks into the conference center and sees a sign that reads, "Text EVENT now to receive conference reminders on your cell phone." The reminders will start instantly!

Giveaways, Drawings, Etc..

Also, booth prize giveaways, drawings and all other awards can be randomly selected – at any time – eliminating any human error and administration.
